Hivelights

The weather has been unBEElievable; winter in October, and summer in November.

Even though we wrap our bees for the winter, they have an additional way of keeping warm. As the weather gets colder, the honey bees will huddle together while 'heater bees' work as tiny furnaces.

Caramel and Honey Spread

Feeling the fall blues? We have a perfect treat for that. Made simply with Chinook Honey, cream and a little butter, our caramel honey spread is a perfect compliment to fall dishes such as the Vanilla Melopita featured below. Also try it with apples, ice cream, baked squash or add it to coffee!

$5.50 for 100ml, $9.00 for 250ml, $12.00 for 375ml.

Mead Matters

Apples are a treasured fall fruit and why not celebrate the season with this Apple Cider mead cocktail? This is excellent to sip on a chilly day, especially if you can gently heat it beforehand.

Recipe from our Kitchen

Vanilla Melopita (Greek Honey Cake)

As the cold weather starts creeping in, most of us start craving comfort food. To satisfy that craving try this Melopita; a light Greek tart topped with our decadent Chinook Honey Caramel Sauce and Chocolate Ganache. This Melopita features ricotta cheese and is also gluten free! Oh yes, and this recipe is dead easy.
